Flock No. 32, About the year 1790 the King of Spain presented some merino sheep to the Dutch Government, a portion of which were sent to the Cape Colony. Later, the British Commandant, Col. Gordon, took an interest in them and acquired a small flock. After his death his widow sold some of them to Captain Henry Waterhouse, the master of a vessel trading with Sydney. He took them with him to Sydney and sold them, some to Captain John Macarthur and some to the Rev. Samuel Marsden. Later on Marsden's Flock was moved to "Gamboola", Molong, N.S.W., which property was owned by his nephew, W.M. Betts. About the year 1840 the Hon. John Smith Bought the property and sheep...Kater Bros., then owners of "Mumblebone", Warren, N.S.W., made their first purchase from the Hon. John Smith in 1879...In the year 1906, after the death of E.H. Kater, the sheep were divided between his executors and the Hon. H.E. Kater, M.L.C.. The portion allotted to the latter...known as the "Eglebara".

Flock No. 32, About the year 1790 the King of Spain presented some merino sheep to the Dutch Government, a portion of which were sent to the Cape Colony. Later, the British Commandant, Col. Gordon, took an interest in them and acquired a small flock. After his death his widow sold some of them to Captain Henry Waterhouse, the master of a vessel trading with Sydney. He took them with him to Sydney and sold them, some to Captain John Macarthur and some to the Rev. Samuel Marsden. Later on Marsden's Flock was moved to "Gamboola", Molong, N.S.W., which property was owned by his nephew, W.M. Betts. About the year 1840 the Hon. John Smith Bought the property and sheep...Kater Bros., then owners of "Mumblebone", Warren, N.S.W., made their first purchase from the Hon. John Smith in 1879...In the year 1906, after the death of E.H. Kater, the sheep were divided between his executors and the Hon. H.E. Kater, M.L.C.. The portion allotted to the latter...known as the "Eglebara".

Flock No. 32, About the year 1790 the King of Spain presented some merino sheep to the Dutch Government, a portion of which were sent to the Cape Colony. Later, the British Commandant, Col. Gordon, took an interest in them and acquired a small flock. After his death his widow sold some of them to Captain Henry Waterhouse, the master of a vessel trading with Sydney. He took them with him to Sydney and sold them, some to Captain John Macarthur and some to the Rev. Samuel Marsden. Later on Marsden's Flock was moved to "Gamboola", Molong, N.S.W., which property was owned by his nephew, W.M. Betts. About the year 1840 the Hon. John Smith Bought the property and sheep...Kater Bros., then owners of "Mumblebone", Warren, N.S.W., made their first purchase from the Hon. John Smith in 1879...In the year 1906, after the death of E.H. Kater, the sheep were divided between his executors and the Hon. H.E. Kater, M.L.C.. The portion allotted to the latter...known as the "Eglebara".

Flock No. 32, About the year 1790 the King of Spain presented some merino sheep to the Dutch Government, a portion of which were sent to the Cape Colony. Later, the British Commandant, Col. Gordon, took an interest in them and acquired a small flock. After his death his widow sold some of them to Captain Henry Waterhouse, the master of a vessel trading with Sydney. He took them with him to Sydney and sold them, some to Captain John Macarthur and some to the Rev. Samuel Marsden. Later on Marsden's Flock was moved to "Gamboola", Molong, N.S.W., which property was owned by his nephew, W.M. Betts. About the year 1840 the Hon. John Smith Bought the property and sheep...Kater Bros., then owners of "Mumblebone", Warren, N.S.W., made their first purchase from the Hon. John Smith in 1879...In the year 1906, after the death of E.H. Kater, the sheep were divided between his executors and the Hon. H.E. Kater, M.L.C.. The portion allotted to the latter...known as the "Eglebara".

Flock No. 32, About the year 1790 the King of Spain presented some merino sheep to the Dutch Government, a portion of which were sent to the Cape Colony. Later, the British Commandant, Col. Gordon, took an interest in them and acquired a small flock. After his death his widow sold some of them to Captain Henry Waterhouse, the master of a vessel trading with Sydney. He took them with him to Sydney and sold them, some to Captain John Macarthur and some to the Rev. Samuel Marsden. Later on Marsden's Flock was moved to "Gamboola", Molong, N.S.W., which property was owned by his nephew, W.M. Betts. About the year 1840 the Hon. John Smith Bought the property and sheep...Kater Bros., then owners of "Mumblebone", Warren, N.S.W., made their first purchase from the Hon. John Smith in 1879...In the year 1906, after the death of E.H. Kater, the sheep were divided between his executors and the Hon. H.E. Kater, M.L.C.. The portion allotted to the latter...known as the "Eglebara".
